

LUTTING ON DOG.

Assemblyman Henry C. Dibble, of California, contributes to the Sunday Examiner a page article, illustrated, entitled "Sargent's Revenge," showing how Senator Sargent defeated the noted Caleb Cushing for Supreme Chief Justice because of unmerited snubs. Mr. Dibble is one of the best posted politicians on the coast, and he tells the story with dramatic effect. It is the most interesting political tale that has found its way to the light of day in many years.

One of the good things in story is the way it shows disadvantages of what is commonly known as "putting on dog."

No matter how high a position a man holds, the moment he puts on airs, that instant he demonstrates his littleness. No really great man ever had the "big head."

Abraham Lincoln, the greatest man ever produced in America, was always at home to the humblest citizen and he was not obliged to look solemn or put on airs to make people think him great.

He was great under all circumstances and could afford to unbend.

Cushing was small enough to snub a man who called on another to pay his respects and the snub caused Senator Sargent years later to wreck a political revenge that he was justified in resorting to.

His triumph over the snobbish Cushing was complete, and he wiped out the ambition of his life at a single blow.

Good manners are something that all men, high or low, should manage to preserve.

A GOOD IDEA.

The Reno Gazette voices a general sentiment in the following:

There is talk that the railroads are going to contest the right of the Board of Assessors and Equalization to make the horizontal raise made throughout the several counties in this State apply to them after the State Board had assessed them. Let us all pay or not monkey with the music. If the railroads insist on being let off from the horizontal raise, let the other taxpayers get together and contest the constitutionality of the law as a whole. This making flesh of one fowl of another may be good for the railroads, but it is death to the rest of us. If the railroads are going to enter the race to avoid paying their just proportions of taxes, let us all enter. We are but a small taxpayer, but will contribute our proportion to a fund to contest the law. If the small taxpayer has got to contribute nearly the entire expense of running the State and county governments, the sooner it is found out the better.

THE THING TO DO.

Old line Democrats and Republicans in Humboldt county say if an election were to take place in that county in November and Cleveland and Harrison were the nominees of their respective parties for President, neither would get a hundred votes in the county, and a Piute Indian on a free campaign platform would beat them.—Journal.

If the National Conventions do not give Nevada a silver man to vote for we can call a State Convention and nominate someone to receive the electoral vote of this State.

On an investment of twenty-five cents you are liable to pull down $5 at the Criterion keno room.—Tribune.

This is a queer advertisement for a newspaper who made such strong objections to the lottery on the highly moral grounds that gambling was disgraceful.
